TEPETLIXPA · DECEMBER 12–15, 2024

Soil Maturation and the Dynamics of Creation

RANCHO MARIANA · STATE OF MEXICO

The living craft of agriculture.

ARCHIVE EDITION

A PRACTICAL SEMINAR

Hands, heart, and the earth.

We gather at Rancho Mariana for four days devoted to the living craft of agriculture. Through observation, artistic work, conversation, and work with the earth, we explore the processes that shape soil, plants, animals, and the life of a farm.

We begin with the elements. Earth, water, air, and fire become ways of paying attention: to the land, to our work, and to the human being within nature.

For farmers, gardeners, and anyone wishing to deepen a practical relationship with the living world.

DECEMBER 12–15, 2024

Rancho Mariana
Tepetlixpa, State of Mexico

Earth, water, air, fire.

And the human being.

Observation, conversation, art, and practical work bring the elements into the life of the farm.

Earth

Soil, minerals, and the garden bed. Clay work, soil observation, and the foundations of fertility.

Water

The life of plants. Sowing, plant remedies, and the movement from dry earth to living form.

Air

Animals and the life of the farm. Biodynamic preparations and Barrel Compound.

Fire

Warmth and transformation. Artistic work, the astronomical calendar, and care for fruit trees.

The human being

The farm as an organism. Bringing the elements together through attention, intention, and practical care.

WITH

Stewart Lundy
Virginia, USA

Natalie McGill
Perennial Roots Farm

Alejandro Altamirano
IKÚ Cultura de la Tierra

José Aviña
Baja California Sur

Daniela Camarena
La Raíz Arte y Diseño
para la Educación y Cultura

Rancho Mariana

December 12–15, 2024

Tepetlixpa, State of Mexico, Mexico

Read the event archive

ALSO ADVERTISED

An online interactive experience

The first gathering.

